When a hurricane threatened south Florida, Erica Cohen's parents made their way to central Florida and were pleasantly surprised when they discovered Celebration. "They were overwhelmed by how special the town was. It's charming and friendly, and that was the type of wedding weekend we wanted; a place for our guests to relax and enjoy themselves for three days."

Their 90 family members and friends, who traveled from all along the east coast and parts of England, made Celebration Hotel their home away from home for the romantic and timeless wedding of Erica and Scott. "Guests were greeted with welcome baskets that had cards detailing the wedding weekend celebration events and little treats for their rooms. They loved it. The entire weekend was a blast, and many of our guests can't stop raving about how special it was."

A string trio played as their guests gathered in the Orange Grove Room and sipped champagne while waiting for the bride to make her entrance. Meanwhile, Erica and Scott posed for some pre-ceremony photos. "I loved seeing my husband on our balcony for the first time. Our pictures came out beautiful from that spot!" Scott wore a black tux with a Hugo Boss champagne tie while Erica wore a Vera Wang strapless, modified mermaid gown with a champagne sash and peep-toe Stuart Weitzman shoes.

"I had a vintage pin on my bouquet that held pictures of my grandparents who recently passed away and my dog that could not make the trip. Outside the reception were vintage frames with pictures of family members on their wedding day. I used hanging candles in my centerpieces to create a glowing feeling. Laura Rizzo went above and beyond in helping us out on our wedding day, and celebrating with our closest friends and family was the best!"
